IIDA ANNOUNCES WINNERS OF SECOND ANNUAL BEST OF ASIA PACIFIC DESIGN AWARDS

Chicago, IL — The International Interior Design Association (IIDA) is proud to announce the winners of the 2014 Best of Asia Pacific Design Awards. The Best of Asia Pacific Design Awards honors the highest level of creativity and design excellence in Interior Design/Architecture projects throughout the Asia Pacific region.

“The purpose of the Best of Asia Pacific Design Awards is to actively pursue the tremendous talent that covers that region and to publicly recognize those designers,” said IIDA Executive Vice President and CEO Cheryl Durst, Hon. FIIDA, LEED AP. “This year’s entries displayed notable elements of elegance, artistry, and functionality housed in each concept. The designers of this region are without doubt indelible innovators of the Interior Design/Architecture profession.”

Judge Joey N. Shimoda, IIDA, FAIA (Chief Creative Officer, Shimoda Design Group) agreed. “The winning entrants all shared a degree of understated elegance. The overall caliber of entrants was very high and continues to evolve the conversation about global and local design: What does it look like? What does it mean, and how does it engage a local audience?”

Other judges on the panel for the Best of Asia Pacific Design Awards included Primo Orpilla, IIDA (Co-Founder and Principal, Studio O+A) and Annhy Shim, Associate IIDA (Senior Design Manager, The Related Group).
